The East End Philanthropy Walk with Dr Peter Grant FRHistS

Monday 15 July, 1500-1730

Thursday 18 July, 1000-1230

No city in the world has the history, complexity and resonances of London. Nowhere in London is more intimately connected with the history of the dispossessed, the poor and the immigrant than the East End. The part of London just outside the walls of the old city, mainly the neighbourhoods of Spitalfields and Whitechapel, is the scene for this walk. This part of London has always been an area for the outsider and later for its deep poverty, overcrowding, associated social problems and the activities of charities and philanthropists to help alleviate them. Cass Business School adjoins these areas and is just 100 yards from Bunhill Fields, the non-conformists main burial ground in London during the 17th and 18th centuries and the resting place of both Daniel Defoe and William Blake, described by Iain Sinclair as the 'focal point of his psychogeography of London'.

See additional details on the following page.

The walk will conclude with an option visit to a nearby local pub.

Register quickly as space is limited (15 participants per tour).
