Are you driven by a desire to make positive change in your community and your world? Have you ever wondered how you might merge your career interests and goals with a pursuit of social impact and service to others? If so, then the Minor in Nonprofit Management in the Public and Nonprofit Management Program is for you.

Launching in Fall 2023, the minor is open to all UT Dallas undergraduate students from any major who want to enhance their current course of study with a focus on the nonprofit sector. The minor will enable you to gain useful knowledge and skills on nonprofit organizations and how to accomplish social impact. Along the way, you will have opportunities to bring your unique interests and major-specific training to your nonprofit coursework, all while learning with students from around the university and acquiring real-world skills to prepare you for your career.

Students interested in the Minor in Nonprofit Management should consult with their academic advisor and contact Dr. Elizabeth Searing to sign up for the Minor.

The Minor in Nonprofit Management requires six courses (18 credit hours) for completion.
